Custom 8oz Mesh Banners Material

Custom 8oz Mesh Banners are made from a durable, lightweight mesh material that is perfect for outdoor use. The mesh fabric is designed to allow wind to pass through the banner, without causing excessive damage, therefore, these banners are ideal for windy conditions. While they are not as rugged as 13 oz vinyl banners, they are not quite as strong as regular vinyl banners. Also, being that mesh banners are not as solid as vinyl banners, they are making the banner semi-transparent, the color vibrancy of the graphics may not be as bright as on a vinyl banner. Please consider is that mesh doesn't perform (or) well in the rain and should not be left outside in wet conditions for long periods of time. Overall, custom mesh banners are a great choice for outdoor advertising if you take into account their limitations. They are durable, easy to hang, and their semi-transparency becomes they are durable and allow wind to pass through, making them ideal for windy conditions. They may not perform as their solid-counter performance and lack of color vibrancy, they are still a great choice for outdoor use.

Custom Vinyl Banners Finish Options

Hems

Reinforced hems are one of the strongest and most durable types of hems available for vinyl banners. Folded hems are created by folding over one inch of the banner material and heating it with a hot iron to create a strong, durable hem. Grommets are typically used to reinforce the sides of the banner and prevent the material from tearing when it is hung. Grommets add to the banner's shape and increase its overall durability. Here at Banner Store, we use a 12 gauge, 1 inch diameter grommet in order to ensure that our customers receive the highest quality product possible.

Grommets

Grommets are used metal rings that are used to provide support and reinforcement for a variety of different items. In banners, they are typically made of metal and are placed around the edges of the sign in order to provide convenient points for hanging or attaching the sign. The large is important because it helps to distribute the weight of the sign. In addition, grommets can also be used to reinforce the sides of the banner and prevent tearing. As a result, grommets play an important role in ensuring that vinyl signs are strong and durable.

POLE POCKETS

Pole Pockets are a handy addition to any banner. They allow for rigid poles or dowels to be inserted along the edges of the banner, which prevents sagging and provides a more even appearance. Pole pockets are also a great way to attach a banner to a surface, such as a fence or railing. This can be particularly useful for outdoor events or displays where other elements that could cause it to flutter or billow. Pole pockets are typically sewn in order to ensure that your banner looks straight and looks its best.

HOOD SLITS

Hood Slits, also known as Wind Flaps, enable the banner. By allowing wind to pass through the banner, they help to prevent it from twisting and flapping in the wind. This is especially important for large banners, as they can act like sails and tilt, even in gusty conditions. If you're worried about the aesthetics of the banner, don't be - the small slits are barely noticeable and will not affect the appearance of your design. So if you're looking for a way to combat windy conditions, wind slits are definitely worth considering.
